

Heilbrunn Department of Population and Family Health
Spring 2007 Seminar Series – Mondays 12:30 – 1:45 PM

January 22	Developmental and Behavioral Effects of Prenatal Exposure to Pesticides on Three-Year-Old Children Virginia Rauh, ScD, Professor of Clinical Population and Family Health, Heilbrunn Dept. of Population and Family Health
January 29	The Marketing of Female Sexual Dysfunction: Illuminating Current Issues in Sexuality Public Health Dr. Leonore Tiefer, MD, Associate Clinical Professor of Psychiatry, New York University School of Medicine
February 5	Fighting Abstinence-Only-Until-Marriage Programs in the Courts Julie Sternberg, JD, Senior Staff Attorney, ACLU
February 12	The Girl Child Network of Zimbabwe Betty Makoni, Director, Girl Child Network of Zimbabwe
February 15	Female Education in Bangladesh Lisa M. Bates DSc, Robert Woods Johnson Foundation Health and Society Scholar, Institute for Social and Economic Research and Policy,
February 26	Examining Domestic Violence - An Ethnographic Perspective from India Sreeparna Chattopadhyaya, M.A., Ph.D. Candidate, Brown University
March 1	The Geography of Opportunity: Relating Spatial Patterns of Health Disparities to Racial Inequality in Housing Markets and Neighborhoods Theresa Osypuk, SD, SM, Robert Woods Johnson Foundation Health and Society Scholar, University of Michigan School of Public Health

Heilbrunn Department of Population and Family Health
Spring 2007 Seminar Series – Mondays 12:30 – 1:45 PM

March 5	How Can We Help Children Survive Today? Using Research to Identify Successful Child Survival Programs Kirk Dearden, DrPH, MPH, Associate Professor, Department of Health Science, Brigham Young University
March 19	The Woman in the Pregnant Body: Do Metaphors Matter for Perinatal Health? Elizabeth Armstrong, PhD, Assistant Professor of Sociology and Public Affairs, Princeton University
March 26	Changing Our Paradigm for Understanding Adolescent Sexual Health Amy Schalet, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology Faculty Affiliate, Center for Research on Families, University of Massachusetts, Amherst
April 2	The Politics and Impact of U.S. Restrictions on Family Planning and HIV/AIDS Wendy Turnbull, Senior Policy & Research Analyst, Population Action International
April 9	Efficacious Child Protection Programs for Children in Post-Conflict Contexts Angela Veale, PhD, Fulbright Scholar, Heilbrunn Dept. of Population and Family Health
April 16	Prevention First: Providing Reproductive Health Care in the 21st Century Cecil Richards, Vice President, Planned Parenthood Federation of America
April 23	The Tortoise and the Hare: Linking Sexual and Reproductive Health and HIV/AIDS Lynn Collins, MD, Technical Advisor, HIV/AIDS Branch, UNFPA